SPECIAL NOTICE

The prices offered in this list are for fine specimens only.

A coin badly worn, plugged, pierced, scratched or damaged in any shape cannot be called a fine specimen, which must have a sharp and bright appearance, showing each hairline to perfection. On account of the large number of specimens issued in the last two thousand years it is impossible to issue a compact list of foreign coins, but we are always pleased to inspect such pieces and make offers on the same. Do not send them on without our instructions, but first communicate with us, sending description of pieces offered. The rarity and value of a coin arises from the fact that but few pieces of certain dates were struck at the mint, or for other reasons.

The annexed prices will be paid for Coins of the United States, provided they are in good condition.

Foreign coins in gold, silver and copper bought at highest market prices.

Bank of England notes, Canada silver and currency, Mexican dollars, etc., bought and sold.
